

THE KENNELS

This project will allow us to provide better care for large mammals that often require only a week or two to recover from their injuries. These 5'X5' kennels are larger than any cubicle we currently have in our infirmary. These kennels will be housed in an existing outbuilding in the compound where we will be able to control the temperature and sanitize the environment making for a swifter recovery. The chain link panels for the kennels have already been donated and we have some monies to help with the renovation of the out building that will house the kennels. Donation to help pay for materials are still needed. We hope to begin work on this project in November.

The shed doesn't look like much now but wait until you see the "after" pictures.

Estimated time of completion: early 2013
